

	B.S. in Food & Nutrition	B.S. in Food and Nutrition + Didactic Program in Dietetics (DPD)	Accelerated Master of Science in Human Nutrition (AMP)	M.S. in Human Nutrition	M.S. in Human Nutrition + DPD (MS + DPD)
Program intended for	Undergraduate students	Undergraduate or post-graduate students seeking a DPD Verification Statement	Undergraduate students on a fast track for the M.S. in Human Nutrition	Graduate students not seeking the RDN credential	Graduate students seeking M.S. and a DPD Verification Statement
Admission requirements	Admittance to UA	Admittance to UA	Students with current 3.7+ overall institutional (UA) GPA and 90+ credit hours. Students must also meet the prerequisite courses before applying.	Admission to UA graduate school. Students without the RDN credential must also meet the prerequisite courses before applying.	Students with overall GPA of 3.0 or higher. Students must also meet the prerequisite courses before applying.
GPA Requirement to complete program	2.0 to graduate	Must maintain a combined GPA of 3.0 or higher in the DPD Science Courses and DPD Professional Courses for the DPD Verification Statement	Must maintain a combined GPA of 3.0 or higher in the DPD Science Courses and DPD Professional Courses for the DPD Verification Statement	3.0 Average GPA	Must maintain a combined GPA of 3.0 or higher in the DPD Science Courses and DPD Professional Courses for the DPD Verification Statement
Number of hours to complete program	120 credit hours to earn degree	Undergraduate Students: 120 credit hours Postgraduate Students: 79 credit hours of DPD required courses	120 hours for bachelor's degree. Select graduate courses may be taken to count towards both degree programs.	30 credit hours	30 to complete M.S. + required DPD courses
Do I get a Verification Statement to apply for an accredited Dietetic Internship?					